RPG Maker U2U P2D Map Editor Demo Now Available!

Join Our P2D Map Sharing Event!

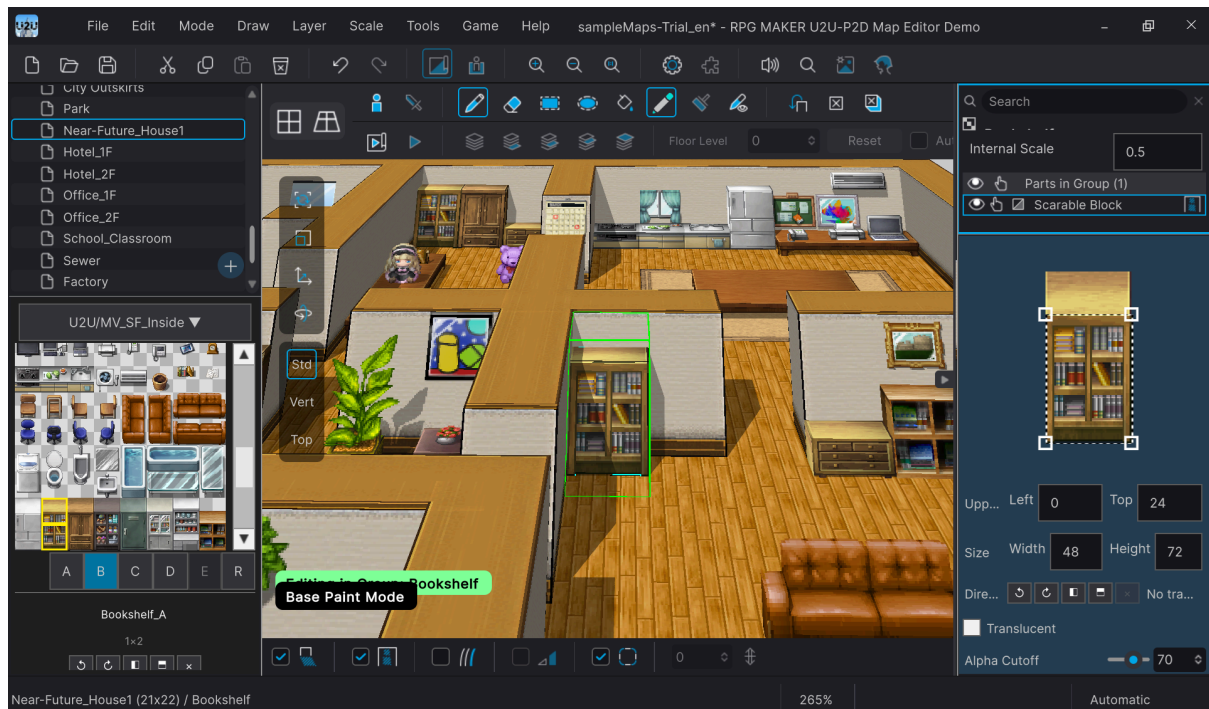

Gotcha Gotcha Games Inc. (Headquarters: Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo; President: Makoto Narita), a proud member of the KADOKAWA group, has released the P2D Map Editor Demo as part of RPG Maker U2U's participation in Steam Next Fest. RPG Maker U2U is the latest entry in the RPG Maker series of game development toolkits.

To celebrate, we're also launching "Let's make some P2D maps!", a community event encouraging everyone to share screenshots of P2D maps created with the demo!

■ P2D Map Editor Demo Now Available on Steam

The P2D Map Editor Demo is now available on Steam! Try your hand at map creation in RPG Maker U2U!

P2D (Perspective 2D) is a new map style in RPG Maker U2U. P2D maps are created with height and depth using intuitive controls.

With this demo, users can try creating their own P2D maps, explore a variety of visual effects, and preview walking animations. Map data can be saved and will carry over to the full version of RPG Maker U2U, once it releases. Download the demo below and try it out today!

*We're taking part in Steam Next Fest, a limited-time event where you can try demos of upcoming games for free!

Please Note

- This demo includes features still in development. Specifications are subject to change.
- This demo does not include game creation features.

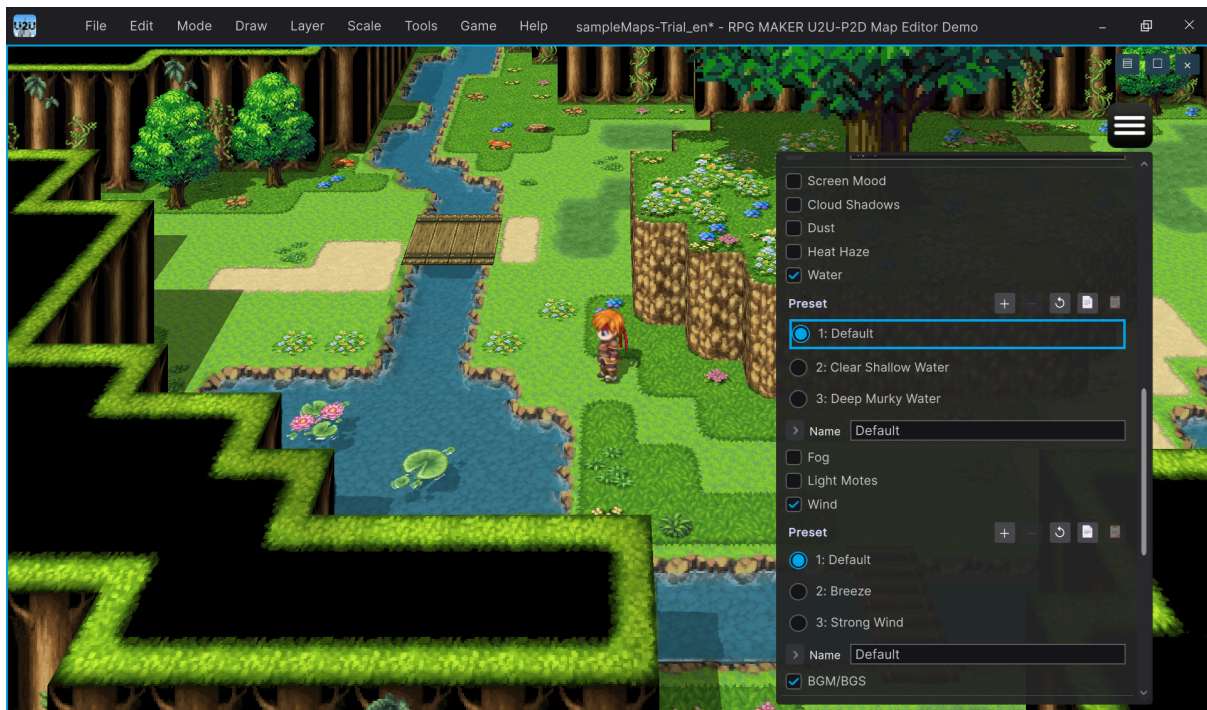

- The demo is scheduled to be available from Tuesday, October 20 through Monday, November 16, 2026(JST).

■ Join the “Let's make some P2D maps!” Event!

To celebrate the release of the P2D Map Editor Demo, we're inviting everyone to join our community map sharing event, “Let's make some P2D maps!”

This is a celebration of your creativity, with no judging or rankings—just a chance to enjoy and share the maps you dream up!

Taking part is easy: simply post a screenshot of a P2D map you've created with the demo in the designated Steam Community Hub thread or on X using the event hashtag.
